Matt is a partner and past chair of DBL Law's Health Care practice. He provides counsel to hospitals, senior living facilities, and a variety of other health care facilities and health professionals. Matt advises clients on joint ventures and other transactional matters, Anti-kickback/Stark/False Claims issues, physician employment, Medicare enrollment and reimbursement, the many issues related to oversight by Kentucky's Cabinet for Health and Family Services. Matt has extensive experience in administrative law and frequently represents clients before state agencies in matters concerning certificate of need and licensure/certification.

Matt is also active in DBL Law's Construction Practice Group. In addition to working on projects for health care clients, he assists with the representation of developers, general contractors, and subcontractors. His work includes negotiating construction contracts and assisting with the many issues that can arise throughout the construction process, from timeline disputes and failure to pay, to quality concerns and employment issues.

Matt is a member of Allied Construction Industries (ACI), where he participates on the Safety Committee. He is also a member of the Health Care section of the Kentucky Bar Association and also the Healthcare Financial Management Association. He was President of the Kentucky Academy of Hospital Attorneys and currently serves as the Kentucky representative on LeadingAge's legal committee.

Matt resides in Villa Hills with his wife.
